ALPHA DRAGONIS

Alpha is the leader of the Alien UFO force. His nickname is The Dragon because of how he looks with his mask on and how his breath smells. Everyone thinks that Alpha keeps his mask on because he's uglier than the mask, but the real reason is he scares himself when he looks in the mirror.

UFO INVASION!

THE ALIENS HAVE LANDED!

The Aliens from Planet Humorless chase all over space battling the Exploriens and rowdy Roboforce. And when they want a break from all those exciting star wars, they load up their amazing UFOs and scare the townspeople.

MEET THE ALIENS

Magnets hold rear escape saucer in place

Push the arrow to get things glowing.

X wings add extra power.

THIS HUGE UFO WITH FLASHING RED LIGHTS LANDED IN MY YARD AND TOOK MY PET CROCODILE!

6979 INTERSTELLAR STARFIGHTER

The Interstellar Starfighter really flashes across the sky with its fantastic fiber optics light display.

ANDY DROID

In one of those unbelievable-but-true stories, Andy is really Explorien Ann Droid's brother. The Aliens reprogrammed Andy to help them in their evil plans to take over the galaxy. But every time Andy sees Ann, he gets a strange tingling in his memory banks, so maybe one day he will find his lost sister.

I HAVE TO WARN THE WORLD! WARP-WING FIGHTERS ARE WINGING THIS WAY!

Push the heat-sensitive sticker to reveal a sizzling secret.

Canopy opens for easy Alien access.

Rudders tip for tip-top flight

6915 WARP-WING FIGHTER

With its droid navigator in a hidden rear compartment, the Warp-Wing Fighter wings through space at warp speed. Whee!

Heat sensitive sticker.

Satellite sensor scans surface.

Lift the rear laser panel and open the doors to reveal hidden compartment for droid navigator.

6836 V-WING FIGHTER

The Alien droid can veer through any volcano in this V wing vehicle.

HERE V GO!

the UFOs Have Landed

"Hey, space fans. It's the Maniac here with a spooky space story. You know, about one of every ten Americans has seen a UFO, and maybe one million people say they have been taken inside an alien spaceship-including me! Here's what happened in my close encounter."

One night I was cruising in my 6550 Outback Racer when I saw hundreds of lights zoom toward earth. They zigzagged, went backwards, and made turns no airplane could. The Outback Racer sped to 85 miles per hour and turned off the road, but I wasn't driving it! It was as if a giant magnet was fueling my car.

Suddenly the car died, and a dazzling light beamed down. A UFO! It glowed with red pulsating tubes and bristled with lasers. I stepped out of the car without wanting to, and a robot led me to the starfighter.

...Suddenly the car died, and a dazzling light beamed down. A UFO!

Out of nowhere, I heard a voice. "My name is Andy. I am a scout from the planet Humorless. You will represent your puny planet, Earth, in an intergalactic building contest."

"Lucky me," I answered without speaking. Weird! Our thoughts went flying back and forth. The starfighter blasted off and stopped under a huge spinning disc. The robot popped the hatch, and I floated up to the saucer like I was on an elevator.

A tall Alien came in, put his ugly face next to mine, and read my mind. Luckily it was empty.

While I was thinking about not thinking, more captured aliens from other planets entered the room. "We need a new interstellar starfighter design for the 21st century," the tall Alien said. "You will all compete against me, Alpha Draconis, to construct a most excellent spacecraft to propel us into the future."

... the Alien read my mind, luckily it was empty.

MY NAME IS ANDY!

...and I floated up to the saucer like I was on an elevator!

One by one, Alpha Draconis eliminated the other builders until he and I were the only two left in the contest. I knew he was trying to cheat by reading my mind and stealing my ideas. So I distracted him by thinking about bad TV sitcoms while I built. When he finished with his model, Alpha Draconis declared "The contest is over. My spaceship is better, Earthling. I win".

...Alpha Draconis declared "The contest is over, I win!"

While the aliens cheered their leader, I pointed my ship's laser at the Alien's ship and disabled its weapon system. Then I slammed the warp engine into hyper drive and headed home. As I landed, a faint message came over my radio from the Alien Leader aboard the #6975 Alien Avenger. "Very clever, Maniac. You won for now. But watch out. We know where you live, and we'll be back."

I know the Aliens will be back, so I'm going to watch the skies for UFOs. And you should too!

... I pointed my ship's laser at the Alien's ship and disabled its weapon system.

THE END!!???

ALIENS MUST RECKON WITH ROBOFORCE

An urgent message just came in from Chip Nebula on Roboton:

"A LARGE INVASION FLEET OF UFOs JUST TOOK OFF FROM PLANET HUMORLESS AND THEY ARE HEADING TOWARD TOWN. ROBOFORCE IS IN PURSUIT, BUT WE NEED YOUR HELP!"

Robo Raptor's powerful muzzle can sniff out an Alien (or Pluton pepperoni pizza) halfway across the planet. With its flying feet, this radical robot really runs. Robo Raptor also moves its arms, tail and head.

Jump into your spacesuits and pick the RoboForce robot that you think will best stop the Aliens.

Robo Stalker's flexible arms, powerful drill, and grabber claw make it a super slick Alien attacker. To get airborne after a UFO, just lower its ears and pop off the head. You can hide in the robot's secret control center to avoid angry Aliens.

Robo Master tracks Alien messages with its cool cosmic holograms. And with a quick flick of its tail, Robo Master launches a solar-powered spy ship into space. With 12 monster wheels, Robo Master really rolls after Alien land cruisers.

Now hop in your robot and may the RoboForce be with you. You can catch up to the Maniac in the comic on page 13 as he tries to save Town from the Alien invasion.

Awesome Alien Avenger is Out of this World!

In one word this UFO is cool. "There are lots of cool things in the UFO," says Michael. "Like the masked Aliens, the planet exploration vehicles, and the lasers. The bigger vehicle attaches to the UFO with magnets and the smaller vehicle fits in the secret compartment in the flying saucer."

Michael powers up the Alien Avenger by touching the special heat sensitive stickers. "Once the UFO takes off, you can make the whole ship spin just like a flying saucer."

Michael helped the Town people build some spaceships of their own to chase the Aliens back into outer space.

Then send us a picture of you in your LEGO costume and a short note telling why you chose that character. Your photo could be in the January/February 1998 issue of LEGO Mania Magazine! Send photos to: LEGO Club, Halloween Mania, P.O. Box 1308, Enfield, CT 06083-1308.

JUST GRAB THE MASK, ATTACH THE RUBBER BAND INCLUDED TO THE BACK AND SLIDE IT ON.

It's the perfect costume for Halloween! Grab the mask, attach the rubber band included to the back and slide it on. You'll be ready to go in no time!

Cyber Saucer Space Race

Make a space race track by tying or taping two pieces of string to the top of a table or other high spot. Then tie the other two ends to a chair's leg or tape them to the floor or other low spot. Space the strings several inches apart so that your #6999 Cyber Saucer rests on the strings with two of the notches on its outer edges. Then build another track near the first one. Now you and a friend can put your Cyber Saucers at the top of the tracks and let them fly. The first UFO to the bottom wins!
